

-Fact Sheet-

- Working with thousands of volunteers, Brothers Redevelopment hopes to paint the homes of as many as 150 homeowners during the Paint-A-Thon's 32nd Season!
- Through the summer-long season, 'Brothers' will stage a variety of events to paint homes in multiple communities along the Front Range, including:

Aurora	Arvada
Brighton	Commerce City
Denver	Edgewater
Englewood	Federal Heights
Hudson	Lakewood
Littleton	Naturita
Northglenn	Thornton
Westminster	Sheridan
Weld	Wheat Ridge

- All house painting will be completed FREE OF CHARGE for senior homeowners who likely would have to pay as much as $5,000 to have their house painted by a commercial contractor.
- The effort serves as a tremendous savings for elderly homeowners—the average Paint-A-Thon recipient was 72-years-old and living on a fixed monthly income of less than $1,300.
- In addition to saving seniors thousands in home maintenance costs and preserving their most important investment, the event also protects home values in neighborhoods throughout the Denver metro area.
- But while the Paint-A-Thon serves seniors, the event appeals to volunteers of all ages, professions and persuasions. Participating volunteer teams represent nearly every community sector, from the corporation to the local church. Government agencies, civic, professional and service-oriented groups also are represented among the event's many caring volunteer teams.
- It's easy to see why. In just a few hours on a sunny Saturday, volunteers can easily and quickly see the results of their hard work—enabling them to walk away with a sense of accomplishment. The result of their teamwork increases a home's value, boosts homeowner pride and lends to a neighborhood's stabilization.
